ROLLPACK

WHAT IS A ROLL-PACK BED ?

A roll-pack bed is a packing system in which pocket sprung or sponge beds are pressed, vacuumed and rolled for them to be more convenient when carrying and installing. Besides all the practicality they have, roll-pack beds are to be made with special pocket springs which helps them adapt your body and distribute the weight systematically; lesser the pressure on crucial areas where you need most comfort such as head, shoulder and spine and special foams which are suitable for beds packaging method..

HOW TO INSTALL A ROLL-PACK BED ?

Users are usually concerned with the setting of roll-pack beds as they look nothing similar to conventional beds of bigger volumes, however, roll-pack beds are known to be easier to install. Two basic steps are needed when preparing a roll-pack bed for the night. First is unboxing the product and putting it onto a wide free surface such as your bed base, second is to cut open the wrapping plastic carefully to not damage the bed itself. After you've completed the quick steps, bed will reload itself swiftly. Although it might take 72 hours for bed to relieve itself completely, you may start using your bed just an hour after the process. An unboxed roll-pack bed has a shelf life of 90 days.

ARE ROLL-PACK BEDS UNCOMFORTABLE ?

On the contrary, roll-pack beds are made of pocket-springs, which are known for their technologic weight distribution.

CAN ROLL-PACKING METHOD DAMAGE MY BEDS SPRING ?

Springs made for beds which are planned to be roll-pack are suitable for the process. Your beds are safe with us.

WHAT'S THE ADVANTAGE OF A ROLL-PACK BED ?

Roll-pack beds are easier and quicker to transport and install with their lesser volume. That same volume advantage also applies to transport fees for wholesale buyers as you will be able to fit more into one truck.
